A DECADE OF DOMINANCE

In the fall of 1999, an idea was born in Middle Tennessee. The idea was to produce the finest wood baseball bats, using only the best available woods, processes and finishes, while allowing players of all ages and at all levels of play the opportunity to have their bat produced. Their own models, to their specifications, colors and personalization. After months of testing and work in the cage, Old Hickory Bats took to the field in the spring of 2000.

In the decade that followed, Old Hickory has steadily become one of the top names in baseball. Continuing to use only the best materials, innovations and technology, along with superior customer service, to produce the best baseball products on the market. From game bats to trophy bats, fielding gloves to accessories, Old Hickory continues to provide all players with the very best tools of the game.

For the last 10 seasons and for decades to come...

THE DOMINANCE CONTINUES...

INK DOT TESTING

Starting in 2010, all Old Hickory maple game bats will have an ink dot on the handle. This ink dot shows the slope of grain of each bat and allows the straightness of the grains to be measured. The straighter the grain through this area, the stronger the bat will be. This ink dot test, mandatory at the pro level since 2009, is now being applied to all Old Hickory Maple Bats, regardless of the level of play.
